

Future Science Leaders is a program for students in 6th-8th grade to explore STEM (science, technology, engineering, and math), make new friends, and participate in real scientific research. We work on educational programming, exhibits, and science communication projects. Meeting and project logistics may change as COVID-19 guidelines are updated.

FSL members will...

- participate in community science projects
- collaborate with researchers from Cornell and around the Finger Lakes
- engage with the Sciencenter’s live animal collection (snakes, geckos, horseshoe crabs, etc.)
- design, build, and test exhibit prototypes
- earn volunteer or community service/career exploration hours

FSL members attend meetings and special events when they are interested and available. Regular meetings are Saturdays from 1:30 – 3:00 pm, although timing is subject to change. See program calendar for more details. Masks are recommended for all participants, but may be required while working directly with Sciencenter visitors.

This program is free to all current Sciencenter members.
