Community Event Ideas

Invite local wooden toy makers to demonstrate their craft

Toy performances, displays, or competitions: for example, yo-yo's, legos, or other building toys present nice ways for participants to show off their skills.

Toy making workshops: provide recycled and excess materials and let people use their imagination to build what ever they like.

Robotics: invite the local robotics teams to show off their inventions while highlighting how they work.

Toy Clinic: have participants bring in broken toys to take apart or repair.

Have the historical society present on toys of the past. Make some old fashioned toys like granny used to play with.

Explore toys of different cultures: invite different cultural groups to show off the toys and games unique to their community.

Partner with a local toy store for a special toy promotion or sponsorship.

Partner with the local college engineering club to help you run an event.
